

Hi Classmates,

I'll keep this short.

After Tech, I went to Stanford for a PhD in Mathematics.

After 57 years at Lawrence Livermore National Lab (34 full time, 23 as retiree-guest), doing numerical analysis R & D and mathematical software, I left for good last month.

Last year, Levan and I finally decided to make the big move to a retirement community here in Livermore. The downsizing and move were difficult, but worth it. This gives us more time for relaxing activities like travel.

In June of this year, we celebrated our 60th anniversary.

-Alan Hindmarsh

